Wednesday, June 12. 1706.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated June 18.

From the Danube, June 7.

THE 4th of this Month 6000 Imperialists, among them 2 Regiments of Horse, march'd out of Bavaria for Italy : Only small Garrisons are left in Ingolstadt, Munich, Landshut and Vilshoffen. We have an Account that the Bavarian Princes are arriv'd at the Castle of Clagenfurt in Carinthia, and 'tis said the Electoress of Bavaria, will with the Emperor's Permission go thither from Venice, to see them.

Strasbourg, June 7. The Marshal de Villars caus'd a Camp to be mark'd out Yesterday near Lauterbourg, so that 'tis believ'd he will speedily march up thither from Spire. Men are kept hard at work upon the Lines along the Mottorn, and on the Fortifications of Haguenau. The Enemy have endeavour'd to lay a Bridge over the Rhine at the Island of Dalhinder near Fort-Louis ; but our Garrison in that Fort, have hitherto hindred them, by a vigorous Fire from their Cannon. Some Battallions and Squadrons, file from time to time from our Army, towards Luxembourg.

Menz, June 10. The 6th Instant Prince Lewis of Baden caus'd a triple Salvo to be given by his Artillery, for the glorious Victory gain'd in Brabant, and the Relief of Barcelona. The Enemy's Army coninues encamp'd near Spire ; but is so much weaken'd by the Detachments they have sent to the Netherlands, that there is no fear of the Marshal de Villars's undertaking any Siege, or to pass the Rhine. Deserters tell us, the Enemy have receiv'd some Reinforcements out of Alsace, but that those Reinforcements consist only of armed Peasants and raw Militia. The great Stores of War of all Sorts which the Enemy left last Year in this Town, are embark'd, to be sent down to Holland.

Dueren, June 13. 12000 Men of the Troops of Prussia and Hanover, are expected to arrive here to Morrow and next Day ; and are to pursue their March from hence by 2 Routes, viz. by Cornelis Munster and Aix la Chapelle, to arrive at Liege the 20th Instant.

Dieppe, June 10. Our Militia being drawn out upon the Coast of Normandy, the regular Troops are drawn out of divers Places and march towards Bologne, Calais, and Dunkirk. 'Tis apprehended the English will make some Attempt upon Havre de Grace or this Town, but Preparations are making for opposing them. All our Inhabitants are order'd to lay in Provisions for themselves for 3 Months, and strict Search is made for Strangers. On the Shore before this Place 4 new Batteries for Cannon are rais'd, and 50 Gunners are expected from Brest.

Calais, June 12. We have an Account, that several Thousand Men regular Troops are on the march this Way from Brittany and Normandy. We are in Apprehension that the English Fleet, having Land Forces on board, will make an Attempt upon this Place or Bologne, wherefore Preparations are made for a necessary Defence ; and the Militia that are posted to guard the Coast, are throwing up Intrenchments where they are judg'd needful. Our Governour has posted 6 Flat-bottom Vessels carrying 16 Cannon each before our Harbour, and laid an Embargo on our Privateers.

Mons, June 14. On Friday last the Elector of Bavaria, with several Generals, arriv'd here, and was welcom'd with the Discharge of our Artillery : Since his Arrival Men are kept at Work Day and Night on the Fortifications. The Garrison consists of 6000 Men, and is well provided to make a long Defence. The Garrison that march'd out of Antwerp past by this Place to Day for Baye.

Lille, June 15. The Marshal de Villeroy has begun to form an Army agen between St. Amand and Tournay. The 16 or 17000 Men despatch'd from the Marshal de Villars's Army, are expected the 25th Instant at Valenciens. All the Villages in the French Flanders, are commanded to furnish Men for the King's Service, each according to the Number of its Inhabitants ; and those Men are to be paid 4 Sols a Day.

Audenarde, June 15. The Elector of Bavaria has reinforce'd the Garrison of Aeth, as well as that of Mons, with his own Troops, and sent in Supplies of Provisions. The Army of the Allies is encamp'd still at Arsele, but to Morrow will move towards Rousselaer.

Ipres, June 15. The 13th 4 Battallions came hither from Tournay and Lille, to that our Garrison, of which the greatest part is encamp'd without the Walls, consists of 8000 Foot and 1200 Horse. The Enemy give out they will besiege us. We prepare for a Defence. The Sluyces are kept ready to let out the Water into the Morasses, and Cannon are plac'd on all the Works of the Town and Citadel. Fort Knock is furnish'd with 3 Battallions and all things requisite for a vigorous Defence.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated June 15.

Brussels, June 15. Yesterday his Excellency General Churchill, our Governour, caus'd a Proclamation to be affix'd at the usual Places ; importing ' That ' he judg'd it necessary for the Service of his Catholick Majesty Charles III, and to prevent many ' Inconveniencies, to command all French-men, Military, or others, not Burghers, or House-keepers ' in this City, not to stir out of their Dwellings on ' the said 14th of this Instant June 1706 in the ' Afternoon, on pain of Imprisonment ; having di- rected Passes for their retiring safely to be given to ' all such as should desire the same ; Declaring that ' if 24 Hours after that time, any French-men, not ' Burghers, or House-keepers, be found in this City, ' they should be treated as Spies, and hang'd ; All ' Inn-keepers, and other Inhabitants of this City, ' are this Morning to deliver to his Excellency a ' perfect List of all the French, who lodge in their ' Houses, pursuant to an Ordinance of the Magi- strates of this City publish'd Yesterday ; All Spa- niards, who are come hither from the Garrison ' of Antwerp, and will not acknowledge his Ma- jesty Charles III for their Lawful Sovereign, nor can can produce Passes, from Brigadier Cadogan, will be treated as the aforesaid French men; and the Wives of all French Officers or Soldiers, except such as by reason of Sicknes are confin'd to their Beds, are to retire from hence in 3 Days, on Pain of Imprisonment, and Forfeiture of all their Goods and Effects.

By the Care of our Gouvernour, we are in great Quiet here; and the good Orders he has issued out, have clear'd the Roads of Brabant of Robbers.

From the Antwerp Courant, dated June 18.

Ghent, June 16. On Monday Morning, at Day-break, 12000 Men with 18 Pieces of Cannon march'd along the Canal of Bruges towards Plaessendaal; towards which General Fagel advanc'd likewise with 6 or 7000 Men from about Dammie. These Forces joyn'd between Bruges and Plaessendaal about Noon; and in the Evening they attack'd the Fort of Plaessendaal, and took it Sword in Hand; in the first Fury some of the French were put to the Sword, but by Order of the Generals the rest were spar'd. Yesterday Morning General Fagel made himself Master of the Bridge of Santvoorde, where are Sluyces that serve to let the Sea into the flat Country on Occasion. A Squadron of English Men of War lies before Ostend; and some French Gallies that came from Dunkirk to put Succours into the Place, were chas'd by some Ships of that Squadron, and narrowly escap'd back to Dunkirk, without having been able to put any thing into Ostend. Yesterday Morning 36 Vessels laden with Artillery and Ammunition, arriv'd here from Sas van Ghent, and are to be sent forward from hence to be employ'd against Ostend.

Louvain, June 16. The Troops of the Allies that are expected from Germany, are to form a Camp near Gemblours; where they will be reinforc'd by Detachments of the Garrisons of Limborg, Liege, Maestricht and other Places, and by 10 or 12 Battalions detach'd from the grand Army. 'Tis talk'd Charleroy will be attack'd, and that afterwards Namur will be block'd up.

Hague, June 18. Monsieur d' Auverquerque, who commands the Siege of Ostend, has under him 3 Lieutenants General of Foot, viz. Fagel, Oxentier, and Sparr; 4 Major Generals, Murray, Collier, Soutland, and Welderen, and 6 Brigadiers; without reckoning the General Officers of Horse, among which are the Earls of Albemarle and Athlone. The States have order'd Baron Fagel, either to roll with the other Lieutenants General, (which he scrupled doing because he had born a higher Commission in Portugal,) or to return to his Government of Sluys; and 'tis believ'd he will rather choose to do the former. 'Tis presum'd Ostend will not hold out above 3 Weeks. This Morning an Express brought the News of the taking of Fort Plaessendaal by Assault, after firing 2 Cannon-shot: About 130 Soldiers with a Lieutenant Collonel and some other Officers, had Quarter given them and were made Prisoners; about 25 French Soldiers made their Escape. Sir Stafford Fairborne arriving with his Squadron before Ostend, immediately dispatch'd Captain Stanhope to Sluys with a Pacquet for the Duke of Marlborough: Some Dutch Ships are to joyn Sir Stafford. The Duke of Marlborough has desir'd the States to send some of their Troops, particularly Dragoons, with the Fleet, to be employ'd in the intended Expedition under the Earl of Rivers. Cavalier's Regiment is to be one of those the States design to furnish. Some Letters from France of the 14th Instan<sup>t</sup>, tell us there is a Misunderstanding between the King and the Dauphin. They add, that the Duke of Vendome had attempted to surprize Verona, but failing, has in rench'd himself before it: The Provost General has caus'd Artillery to be plac'd on the Ramparts, and sent to Prince Eugene for Assistance.
